

The New York Times

... ..

... ..

years. She typically serves people at high risk of inheriting a disease, and insurance usually

... ..

Now the bar is getting lower. A new regulatory structure announced in November by the introduce some tests for health risks without premarket review. This change is expected to usher in a rapid expansion of the consumer genetics industry.